LUCKY TO BE ALIVE

Pair's miraculous escape after 50ft tree crashes to the ground at pub

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

DRINKERS watched in horror as a 50ft-tall tree fell on to a picnic area outside a Harlow pub, injuring two men.

Emergency services were called to the Harlow Mill pub and restaurant shortly before 5pm on Tuesday after the willow crashed to the ground.

Initial reports suggested two men were trapped underneath and firefighters were sent to the pub in Cambridge Road with heavy duty cutting equipment to free them.

David Poole, who was in the pub's beer garden at the time, said: "The tree was upright and good, then all of a sudden we heard a crack. It was like slow motion as it went over."

Scientist and teacher receive Birthday Honours from Queen

A FORMER scientist who pioneered the development of fibre optics while working in Harlow during the 1960s has been knighted in the Queen's Birthday Honours.

Charles Kao was a research engineer at Standard Telecommunication Laboratories – now part of Nortel Networks – in London Road when he made his breakthrough.

Widely regarded as the father of fibre optics, he was awarded the Nobel Prize in physics for his work.

Fibre optics became the foundation of modern global communications and his groundbreaking research led to Harlow becoming known worldwide as its birthplace.

Former colleague Peter Selway, who lives in Sawbridgeworth, told the Star: "The big honour for him was the Nobel Prize but the knighthood is the icing on the cake."

Shanghai-born Sir Charles, suffers from Alzheimer's and now lives in California.

Also honoured by the Queen was Stewards School assistant head-teacher Marie Erwood, who receives an MBE for services to education.

The history teacher has taught in Harlow's secondary schools for 35 years, the past 20 of which have been spent at Stewards.

Headteacher Rhonda Murthar said that the school's outstanding Ofsted ratings for pupil care and guidance were due in large part to her leadership and dedication.

"Marie Erwood is an exceptional person," said Mrs Murthar. "No-one could have done more to enable thousands of young people in our community to have the best chance of living happy and fulfilling lives and to lead them towards becoming responsible young citizens."

"I can think of no-one more deserving of this exceptional honour."

Ride into town on a 'greyhound' bus

PLANS to start a congestion-easing park-and-ride service from Harlow Stadium to the town centre have been given the green light by councillors.

The scheme, which will use to use the car park at the greyhound track off Roydon Road, is the first of its kind to be agreed in the town.

Some 150 spaces will be allocated for the service, with buses running from Pinnacles to Harlow Town station and then on to the town centre.

Stadium operations director Mick Davis said it was hoped the minibus service would run every 20 minutes at certain time of the morning and evening.

"The idea is that companies around Harlow that have got no transport for their

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsexsexnews.co.uk employees will be able to use us," he said.

"We are in talks with Essex County Council who are moving staff into a building near the station. We'd also like to run a service around the perimeter of Harlow."

It is currently envisaged that buses would travel to and from the stadium from 7.30-9.30am and 4.30pm-6pm, avoiding the busy race nights on Friday and Saturday.

The usual race meeting on Wednesday will swap to a Sunday before the scheme begins so as not to clash.

Members of Harlow Council's planning committee approved the proposal and also granted permission for the use of a former clubroom building as an office for a taxi firm.

In a report to the committee, officers said it that it would not involve any "noticeable difference" in the way the land is utilised.

It was also suggested the service would contribute to a reduction in cars heading into the town centre, helping to reduce congestion and pressures on the road network and promoting more sustainable modes of travel.

Councillors agreed the proposal on condition that spaces were left in the car park for the stadium's day-to-day use and for space for buses to turn around.

● Companies or organisations interested in using the park-and-ride service can contact Mr Davis on 07886 768870.

Anton charms at opening of new showroom

STRICTLY Come Dancing star Anton du Beke waltzed into Harlow on Thursday to open a new showroom.

He was invited to the premises of 1st Call Mobility, which supplies specialist furniture and goods designed for larger people, at Baros House in Elizabeth Way.

The showroom is the largest of its type in the country and includes a unique decontamination facility, which will help hospitals and health trusts in the fight against infections such as MRSA.

Sales director Hilary Wrightman said: "Anton spoke to everyone about the company and about Harlow. He was an absolute gentleman, charming and very amusing!"

Among those invited to the opening were Harlow MP Robert Halfon and Harlow Council chairwoman Sue Livings.

1st Call Mobility also has a shop in Little Walk.

Breaking news: Harlow's first free paper is 30

IT'S birthday time here at the Star. On Saturday your favourite local newspaper was 30 years old.

The very first copy of the newspaper appeared on Thursday, June 12, 1980. And so to celebrate this landmark, Nostalgia is looking back at that issue.

The decision to publish the Star was taken in response to a survey which showed there was a demand in the town for a free weekly newspaper.

It started off with only a few pages but over the subsequent -months and years steadily grew to become the number one source of news and information for people living in the town.

The inaugural paper included a

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

message from editor Mike Daniell which read: "Harlow's new Star has now risen and we hope you like the results.

"It is your own FREE weekly newspaper. We have tried to bring you a bright package of news, features and advertisements. We hope you will think we have succeeded.

"But the real purpose of the Star is to give the community a chance to see their news - and views - in print So please let us have your letters on all subjects. And any suggestions to improve the Star. "Remember, it's YOUR newspaper."

The first edition splashed with a story about long-serving market traders who had been suspended by Harlow Council for a week over a row over a regulation which restricted stallholders from displaying goods beyond the area of the stall.

The paper also reported that Harlow masterplanner Sir Frederick Gibberd was back in town to launch Harlow Council for Voluntary Service's first playbus and hand out balloons to the youngsters. Sir Frederick described the bus as "absolutely super".

NOSTALGIA UPDATE

NOW then, now then! A couple of weeks ago we referred to the 'giant' chess tournament that took place during the Town Show back during the early 1970s when local schoolchildren took the place of the pieces. We asked if any readers could remember taking part or had photographs. Local history officer David Devine searched through the archives of the Museum of Harlow and although he couldn't find any of that particular game, he came across these gems which date back to 1979.

Boys at The Dashes Playbarn fixed up a giant game of draughts using recycled tyres - half of them painted white - as the pieces. It was entered into the National Playing Fields Association's 'Free Play '79' competition - sponsored by the Avon Rubber Company in conjunction with the National Anti-Waste Programme - which encouraged the building of a play area or structure using waste materials. The judges were so impressed by The Dashes draughts that they awarded it the prize for the best entry in the eastern region. Presenting the prizes at the awards ceremony, held at the International Press Centre in London, was none other than DJ and television star Jimmy 'How's about that boys and girls' Savile, who is pictured above with winners Mike Pratt, David Bacon and Peter Spence.

School anger

Plans to demolish Latton Bush School and replace it with housing has infuriated local people. The school closes at the end of the month and a campaign to save the school buildings has been launched by councillors.

BMX misery

Many children who arrived at the Harlow Cycle Centre in Bush Fair to see a BMX stunt team display were disappointed following a mix up over start times. The show began earlier than press adverts had stated.

Costa crime

Harlow MP Jerry Hayes is set to help flush out criminals from Spain's Costa del Sol. Mr Hayes, who is a criminal lawyer, is meeting the Spanish ambassador in an attempt to strike a new extradition agreement between the countries.

Pot shots

Snooker star John Virgo entertained guests at a Kennings social evening with an exhibition of trick shots and impressions of fellow players. More than 200 friends and customers of the car company based at The Stow enjoyed the fun at the Moat House Hotel.

Social services criticised by inquest jury over teenager's prison suicide

AN inquest jury has criticised Essex Social Services and prison authorities after a teenage asylum seeker who hanged himself in his cell rather than be sent back to Darfur.

Joker Idris, who lived in Harlow, was handed his deportation documents by a prison officer on Christmas Eve 2007. The following morning his body was discovered suspended by a noose made from a ripped bedsheet and tied to the window bars.

The inquest held at Chelmsford heard how Mr Idris was picked up by Stansted Airport police while travelling on a train without a ticket in May 2006. He claimed he was 15 but was assessed as at least 17 by the county's refugee team.

He was given accommodation, first in Westcliff and then Southend before being moved to an address in Hart Road, Harlow, in January 2007. But all support ended shortly after his 18th birthday in March of that year.

Four months later he committed a criminal offence for which he received a 12-month prison sentence. Although Social Services were informed about his detention he was never visited and his legal representative was unaware he was in prison.

Mr Idris, a member of a tribe which was being persecuted by the Sudanese government, had applied to stay in the UK after he turned 18. But on December 20 the UK Border Agency notified him in jail that his request had been turned down because his offence and he would be deported when his sentence ended on January 7, 2008.

The jury returned a verdict that Mr Idris took his own life. But in a rider to the verdict they highlighted "the failure by Chelmsford Prison to have in place in December 2007 a formal and managed system for delivery of deportation documents to prisoners and the failure by Essex Social Services to provide assessed care and support to the deceased after his 18th birthday".

Family fear for safety of missing pensioner

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

TWO daughters of a Harlow pensioner who has been missing for four weeks have made a personal appeal for information about his whereabouts.

Police and the family of 70-year-old Peter Schofield, of Brockles Mead, are growing increasingly concerned about his safety and welfare.

Speaking at Harlow Police Station on Monday, his daughters Jane Mansfield and Louise Schofield said they were desperate to know he is safe.

"He is a very well-educated man who will socialise with people from all walks of life," said Jane. "He would talk to people young and old and he's got something to say on everything."

Louise added: "He was known as Peter Pan because he thinks he is still 18."

"He was a social character and very, very outgoing and he could have a conversation with anyone."

"We're hoping that someone has seen him and can just let us know where he is. What's hard is not knowing."

"All his friends and family really miss him, love him and want to know that he is safe."

Mr Schofield, a grandfather-of-four, is a man of routine and regularly visits Ladbroke's in the town centre as well as Yates's bar, The Shark pub in Colt Hatching and The Phoenix pub in Hart Road.

Shortly before he went missing he had told friends that he might jump off Southend pier.

Police investigating his disappearance have made inquiries in both Harlow and Southend. Checks on mobile phone and bank account records have revealed no recent activity.

Chief Inspector Ben Hodder, district commander for Harlow, said: "Peter is not in any kind of trouble; we are just concerned for his safety."

"It is very much out of routine for someone as popular as Peter not to be seen for four weeks."

"We're hoping he has just taken some time out and maybe staying with a friend in Harlow."

Mr Schofield was last seen with some food and a sleeping bag outside Ladbroke's, near to the Terminus Street bus station, at 3.30pm on Thursday, May 20.

He is described as white, 5ft 7ins tall, of slight build with short dark brown hair and brown eyes. He is usually clean shaven and was last seen wearing a pale blue flat cap bearing the Tottenham Hotspur Football Club logo on and jeans.

He has tattoos of the words "love" and "hate" on his fingers and suits of cards on the backs of his hands.

Anyone with information is asked to contact police at Harlow CID on 0300 333 4444.

Two-wheel trips around town

CYCLING enthusiasts in Harlow will be doing their bit to encourage people out of their cars and on to two wheels during Team Green Britain's National Bike Week.

Organised cycle rides for all the family take place on Saturday, Tuesday and Thursday.

The aim is to promote cycling's dual benefits of being good for the environment and increasing fitness levels.

John Curry, Harlow representative for the national cyclists' organisation CTC, said: "Plenty of people get in their cars and nip into town without giving it a second thought. Yet hopping on a bike could get you there faster, cheaper and give you a healthy boost along the way."

A Harlow Council spokesman said: "Harlow has a fantastic cycle track network which makes it very easy for all the family to get round the town without getting stuck in traffic and polluting the atmosphere."

"Cycling is good for your health and our environment."

Team Green Britain was founded by EDF Energy to promote living in a more sustainable way.

For more information on rides taking place in Harlow, visit the website at www.bikeweek.org.uk.

Israel was entitled to board aid ships

SIR, Barbara Burge and Mary Solomon made some unfair and inaccurate comments about Israel and also attacked Robert Halfon for saying the media take a generally one-sided view against Israel (Letters, June 10).

Israel is fully entitled under international law to blockade Gaza where Hamas continues to fire rockets indiscriminately, hoping to kill as many Jewish civilians as they can. No government can tolerate this.

Israel advised those wishing to supply Gaza with humanitarian aid to supply Gaza via Israeli ports until Hamas stopped trying to kill Israeli citizens. As the UN has restated in recent days, Israel is fully entitled to board and inspect ships they suspect of aiding Hamas. Tragically, those on one ship tried to kill the Israeli soldiers who boarded it.

Gaza has received billions of pounds of aid from the European Union and other countries, but as is well known much of that has been squandered by Hamas on weapons to use against Israel. Egypt, until recently, also closed its crossing points into Gaza but both countries have always allowed humanitarian aid through these border points.

Hamas has a genocidal policy of annihilating Israel while Gaza educates its children to hate and kill Jews, as international enquiries have established. Most of us recall seeing the disturbing photograph of a Palestinian toddler dressed up as a suicide bomber.

The world has much for which to thank the Jews, not least in the fields of medical research and IT. Only a couple of generations ago concerted efforts were made to eliminate the Jews; in response, many of them returned to

Hockey club ban is bizarre

SIR, I was glad to see your report about Demons Skater Hockey Club not being allowed into the new Leisurezone (Star, June 10).

It is bizarre that after playing at the Sportcentre for more than 15 years, the club is suddenly told they cannot play in the new centre. We are refused a meeting to discuss the situation and are only informed what the problems are.

It may be that it will require a couple of thousand pounds to remedy yet another piece of poor design, but this project cost all of us £25m and we should get good use out of it.

When the Government and local councils are looking where to save money in these difficult times, the first place they should look is at the people and organisations who fail to deliver true value to the community they are supposed to serve.

Meanwhile, the hockey club has closed, worn down by the intransigent unhelpfulness of people whose actions have the opposite effect to their intended role.

I, for one, am glad that Harlow now has an MP who will stand up to unfair criticism of Israel.

MP wrong to blame media's raid reports

SIR, It appears to me that Robert Halfon's comments on the Israeli commando raid on the aid convoy to Gaza are both confused and less than candid (Star, June 3).

Less than 18 months ago Israeli troops killed 400 Palestinians and wounded 20,000 in a 23-day offensive in Gaza. A credible independent investigation into the massacre was rubbished by the Israeli government so Robert's support for an independent investigation into the deaths of a mere nine people was a non-runner, as I suspect he well knew.

Indeed, the fair full and impartial inquiry into this latest incident proposed by the UN Secretary General has immediately been rejected out of hand

by Israel

However, Robert seems to already have the answers when he blames the media for presenting a one-sided view of the raid. Does he know this for a fact? Why would they do that, I wonder? The whole of the world's media ganging up (again) on Israel is just not credible. A case of blame the messenger for the bad news I suspect.

His comparison of the raid with the hypothetical boarding by the Royal Navy of a "mystery ship" in British waters doesn't stand up to any realistic examination. This convoy had made no secret of its intentions to supply a small amount of humanitarian aid to the people of Gaza. It was in international waters 77 miles off the coast of Gaza.

According to the United Nations, Israel permits less than a quarter of the food supplies to enter Gaza. Over 90 per cent of the water is unfit to drink and water purification equipment is refused entry. The collective punishment being imposed by Israel is a crime under international law, as is piracy and kidnapping.

Copse Hill, Harlow

Statistics don't justify decision over runway

SIR, I was somewhat surprised to read Robert Halfon's response (Letters, June 10) to my comments about the second runway at Stansted Airport.

He once again quotes statistics but sadly does not appear to understand the gravity of his own figures.

He claims that just 5.5 per cent of jobs at Stansted Airport have gone to Harlow residents as though it does not matter. If I had been elected to represent Harlow I would not be using these sort of statistics to justify my argument. I would be naming and shaming the companies involved in this practice and pressurising them to employ local residents.

Mr Halfon's statistics are somewhat blinkered as he focuses on airport jobs alone, which is only the tip of the iceberg. We all know that airports attract lots of business to the surrounding area.

He concludes by claiming "issues like this must be settled democratically at the ballot box". Once again he narrows the focus, this time of our election choices. I suggest if the election had been held purely on this issue alone he would have lost his deposit.

People in Harlow are fully in favour of full employment and prosperity. I understand Mr Halfon is new in his job but he needs to understand he was elected to represent all the people of this constituency, including the ones that voted against him.

James Gamble
Brockles Mead, Harlow

Good and bad news about wheelie bins

SIR, It has now been over six months since we had our wheelie bins delivered and I thought I'd write with my comments.

The good point is that I no longer have to use our bin cupboard to store rubbish. This used to make the house smell vile the days before collection. The down points are that the collection times are very erratic.

During the first few weeks the collections would be early morning. Last week the food waste was collected shortly before lunchtime and the recycling at about 2pm.

My main grudge is the fact that the household waste isn't collected weekly anymore for houses, yet here in Milwards the flats still have their waste collected weekly. Because of this I, like quite a few people in the road, take my household waste to the flats the day before collection instead of having it fester in the wheelie bin for another week.

I shouldn't have to do this. I pay my council tax for a service so why should I be treated differently just because I live in a house.

Time for talking is over. Now get ready to walk the Walk!

WE'VE talked the talk. Now it's time to walk the Walk.

After months of planning, Harlow town centre will be transformed into a sea of pink on Saturday night when hundreds of women take part in the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk.

This week the team at St Clare have been busy preparing hundreds of goody bags ready to hand out to people taking part in the walk.

Organisers are expecting more than 1,300 walkers to set off on the 10km course and hopes are high that this year's event – which once again is being supported by the Star – will raise more than £100,000.

The walk starts and finishes outside the Asda store in the Water Gardens car park.

When you arrive you must register at one of the desks which will be set up alphabetically by surname.

When you register you will receive a goody bag.

Registration begins at 8.30pm and the walk itself will get under way at 10.30pm. Shortly before the start of the walk a team from Harlow Sportcentre will lead a fun warm-up session.

"Ten17 will be on stage from 8.30pm as walkers start arriving to sign in, with Zumba dancers taking to the stage at 9pm," said events fundraiser Tracy Stratford.

"It's always an amazing sight seeing hundreds and hundreds of ladies dressed in pink gathering outside Asda before setting off through the town. And this year we will be selling a new addition to the famous bunny ears – flashing pink fairy wings!"

Walk marshalls will be positioned at various points along the route to ensure that no-one gets lost and to deal with any problems that may arise.

In addition, a mobile first aid unit will be available to deal with anyone who may require medical assistance.

All walkers who complete the course will receive a medal. There is no time limit in which to complete the walk, although organisers expect everyone to have finished within four hours.

If you have a mobile telephone please bring it with you. Before you leave home, enter the on-the-night help number 07910 498824 into the phonebook and then use this to either call or text if you need assistance while on the walk.

If you decide to leave the walk before completing the course, please call or text the same number to let the organisers know.

"If you have signed up there is still time to ask your colleagues, friends and family to sponsor you," says Tracy. "It all helps, however large or small. Your sponsorship really will make a difference to the care of local people."

"We're sure everyone will have a great night full of fun, entertainment and, of course fundraising. Please remember to wear comfortable shoes and bring a torch with you."

Public will help shape way ahead for council

HARLOW could be run by a directly elected mayor under proposals being considered by the town's Conservative-led council.

Members of the newly-formed executive committee have recommended the authority embark on an extensive consultation exercise on plans to shake-up authority's decision-making process.

If the recommendation is agreed next month, residents and local organisations will be asked for their opinions on how the council should work.

Options could include the introduction of a mayor and cabinet system or a Westminster-style leader and cabinet set up. Alternatively, the council could decide to retain the current committee system.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "Any new arrangements would start from next May and are subject to consultation. Anyone who wants to will have the opportunity to have a say."

A final decision would have to be made by the Secretary of State and this could then be followed by a townwide referendum if anything other than a leader and cabinet system is favoured.

Meanwhile, councillors have already agreed a new structure which it is hoped will help to speed up the decision-making process.

Five new policy working groups were established, each chaired by a member

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk appointed from the executive committee. They are Simon Carter (resources), Lee Dangerfield (housing), Tony Hall (environment), Joel Charles (community & citizenship) and Russell Perrin (regeneration & enterprise).

The new executive committee will take over work previously done by the former policy and resources, environment and community committees.

Reports and recommendations from the council's all-party working groups will be made by the relevant chairman to the executive committee.

Councillor Johnson, who has taken on the role as chairman of the executive committee, said: "The whole of local government continues to face many financial and policy making challenges."

"Our decision-making structure has been streamlined to meet those challenges and we need to ensure the needs of the community play a greater role in our decision-making."

"Supporting the committee are the policy working groups, which link directly into the council's priorities."

"The working groups will help develop new policies and ensure that performance and finances are monitored in key areas of the council."

Red card warning to World Cup jobs

COUNTY ambulance chiefs have warned football fans they will be shown the red card if they physically or verbally abuse paramedics during the World Cup.

Last year the East of England Ambulance Service staff reported nearly 400 assaults, 110 of which involved violence. Half of all assaults were drink-related.

There are fears that staff could be in the firing line if trouble breaks out during the World Cup.

Neil Storey, associate director for emergency operations, said that although no-one wanted to discourage people enjoying the football, the NHS trust would not tolerate abuse or violence against its staff.

"We understand that watching football matches will generate a party atmosphere and also heighten people's emotions, but we don't want any adverse behaviour to get the better of them and impact on the crews when they attend a 999 call."

He added: "When you respond to a 999 call, the very last thing you expect is to be repaid with physical or verbal abuse.

"It's unacceptable for anyone to be threatened but particularly so when attacks are made on our staff, who are there to help save lives and give aid to the public.

"We encourage staff to report any abuse and we always pursue prosecution in all cases as far as possible with the police and Crown Prosecution Service."

All staff, including call takers, are required to undertake a dynamic risk assessment for each incident, which identifies whether police support is necessary.

Steve Brant, assistant general manager for the Harlow area, said: "We do not want to deter anyone from enjoying the celebrations but we would like the public to take on board a few simple steps to make these times as safe and enjoyable as possible.

"Do not call 999 unless it's absolutely necessary. Pre-book a taxi to and from the venue where you are watching the games or arrange a lift, make sure you eat a meal before the games, be careful while walking home and, most importantly, respect the emergency service."

Judge lets owner keep 'killer' dog

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DOG owner taken to court by the RSPCA after one of his two dogs killed the other in a fight has been allowed to keep the surviving animal.

Although Ben Cathorne could have been banned from owning dogs, a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court said they were the only thing he had in life and he did not have the heart to take the remaining animal from him.

Cathorne (22), of Rushes Mead, Harlow, was prosecuted by the RSPCA for failing to take steps to protect his animals from pain and suffering, failing to prevent the dogs becoming involved in a fight, failing to act to obtain veterinary care and causing unnecessary suffering in November of last year.

The court heard Cathorne had been given the two dogs by his late parents. The RSPCA started legal action against him when he took the body of dog that died as a result of the fight to a vet to be cremated.

The surviving dog was then removed and also found to be suffering injuries including 20 puncture wounds. Veterinary expert Alison Robson said the injuries were consistent with dogs fighting.

The RSPCA asked the court to impose an order preventing Cathorne from being allowed to keep the remaining animal.

However, district judge David Cooper said Cathorne had "nothing else in his life" and instead imposed a 12-month conditional discharge with £250 costs.

Referring to his decision not to impose a ban, he said: "I don't think I can find it in my heart."

New start for community kitchen

A COMMUNITY kitchen which closed nearly two years ago is back in business.

Quigy's Kitchen, at Rainbow Services in Wych Elm, has received sufficient funding from The Local Food Project and the Big Lottery Fund to stay open for two years.

It means that a catering supervisor can be employed to run the kitchen which is staffed by volunteers.

The kitchen enables people who have lost their jobs to keep busy while they search for a new position.

Quigy's currently has six volunteers preparing fresh food and there are plans to start a sandwich run.

Wendy Letch, operations manager at Rainbow Services, said: "It's all about helping local people.

"All the produce used is locally sourced and all the volunteers are from Harlow.

"People are finding that it can be really helpful in getting back to work, especially as a lot of them used to be employed in the catering industry."

By George! Council follows PM's example and flies the flag HARLOW Council is flying the Cross of St. George outside the Civic Centre and in Market Square during the World Cup.

Flags were put up on Friday and will fly alongside the Union Flag.

A special litter bin painted red and white, pictured right, has also been placed in Market Square for shoppers to use during the tournament.

One side of the bin is for mixed recycling and is the first "recycling on the go" bin to be placed in the town.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "The Government is encouraging councils to do their bit in helping reclaim the English flag as a proud symbol of our nation's identity.

"Like Downing Street we are proud to be flying the Cross of St. George outside the Civic Centre and in Market Square during the World Cup. The flag will take centre place to celebrate England's participation."

The council will also be flying the Armed Forces Day Flag outside the Civic Centre next week.

motion as it went over.

"We came over to the tree and we heard this screaming. A chap was in there and he shouted 'I'm in trouble'.

"It was a freak accident. It was not that windy."

Steve White and Chris Reed also watched events unfold. Mr White said: "We heard the crack and watched it go over. It looked like it was going to fall on the building.

"The paramedics were here in a matter of minutes to help the men. It was a lucky escape for them.

"They must have been hit by branches. If it was the trunk it would've been game over."

Station commander Martin Edey told the Star: "When we got there we found that one person was being walked out with the assistance of the ambulance service.

"The other person was injured but not trapped and he was carried out on a stretcher. It appears they had been hit by a large branch."

A spokeswoman for the ambulance service said both men, who are believed to come from Harlow, suffered minor injuries, one to his head and the other to his back. They were taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Firefighters used thermal imaging cameras and a search and rescue dog to check for any further other casualties.

Yesterday (Wednesday) the tree had been cordoned off and a tree surgeon hired by Whitbread Hotels & Restaurants, which owns the pub, was conducting an investigation.

A spokeswoman for the company said: "At about 5pm a large willow tree snapped at the bottom of its trunk and fell across the main entrance of the restaurant.

"Two guests were injured and subsequently taken to hospital.

"All other entrances to the site remain in use and the site is operating as normal. Works to remove the tree have commenced."

An investigation into the incident has been started by Harlow Council as the licensing authority and health and safety officers visited the scene yesterday.

Mars 'mission' spacemen are going nowhere

CAN you imagine being locked away for more than a year in a sealed container with no windows?

Well that's what six would-be astronauts from Russia, China and Europe have agreed to do to get an idea of what it would be like on a trip to Mars.

They will spend the next 18 months shut inside a life-size model spaceship at a medical institute in Moscow.

Scientists hope the experiment, which has been designed to be as realistic as possible, will help them to understand how people would cope with a long space flight to the red planet.

Dr Martin Zell from the European Space Agency told reporters:

"Everything will be onboard at the start. There will be no re-loading or re-supplying whatsoever. It will be like a real mission."

The mock spaceship is made up of five steel containers, one of which has been covered in rocks and sand to look just like the planet's surface.

About halfway through the mission three of the crew will have to 'land' on this surface and walk about on it while dressed in heavy space suits.

Anti-crime project a growing success

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

POLICE community support officers and volunteers have been sowing the seeds of love in parts of Harlow blighted by vandals.

Planters in The Briars, Copshall Close, Aylets Field and Gladden Court have all been restocked with new plants donated by Harlow Garden Centre.

Sergeant Rob Hance, who leads the Love Harlow partnership which designed to improve areas of the town which may appear run-down or damaged through crime, said: "Harlow is a vibrant town and has some beautiful green areas.

"However, a small number of mindless people who damage and vandalise mean that pockets of areas can appear run down, leaving a negative image for people who live there, work or visit.

"The Love Harlow project aims to work with partner agencies and communities to identify any areas of local concern and also target any issues such as anti-social behaviour, graffiti, drugs, burglary and car crime.

"We hope to embrace the true community spirit in Harlow this summer to drive out anti-social behaviour and continue to make Harlow a place to enjoy."

The planting project, was initially planned as part of the Moat housing association's neighbourhood charter for the Harlow area. During consultation with residents in some neighbourhoods it became clear that some of the planters were looking tired and untidy.

James Cornelius, Moat's neighbourhood manager in Harlow, said: "We are one of Love Harlow's sponsors and we were delighted to share our community day and ensure the best result for local residents of The Briars, Copshall Close, Aylets Fields and Gladden Court.

"Love Harlow and Moat hope that our work will encourage people to take pride in their neighbourhood. Hopefully this will be one of many projects on which we can work together."

Love Harlow is supported by Harlow Council, Kier Harlow, Pitney Bowes, Essex Prison Services, ADAS and Harlow Garden Centre.

Theatre group is on the right track

PERFORMING arts group Razed Roof is planning a five-mile trek with a theatrical twist around the athletics track at Mark Hall School next month. About 30 members and supporters will take part in the walk to raise cash for the group, which provides performing arts training for people with and without disabilities and learning difficulties.

Several of them are planning to wear fancy dress.

Organiser Barbara Lazarus said: "We realise that walking round and round a track could become a bit tedious so we've come up with some ideas to brighten make the event more interesting.

"We're expecting several walkers to wear some fun outfits and they will be challenged to collect various items from a table on each lap of the course."

The walk starts at 10am on Sunday, July 11 and the organisers are hoping to attract more volunteers and sponsorship from local companies. All proceeds from the walk will go to support the work of Razed Roof.

Anyone interested in taking part or offering sponsorship should call 07910 452761.

Justin gearing up for bike challenge

A HARLOW man is planning a 100-mile bike ride in his latest challenge to raise cash for the Help for Heroes charity.

Earlier this year Justin Clifton completed the New York marathon and was all set to take part in the Edinburgh marathon but was thwarted by an injury.

He needs surgery on his knee but can still ride a bicycle so intends to take part in the Chiltern Challenge 100 ride on June 27.

His charity runs and collection placed boxes in local branches of the NatWest have already raised more than £3,000 for the charity which helps British soldiers wounded in action.

"I come from a military background and I strongly believe that the Armed Forces protect our way of life," said Justin, who lives in Mark Hall Moors.

To sponsor Justin, visit his website at www.justgiving.com/Justin-and-Debbie-Clifton.

Try your hand at boxing classes

FREE boxing classes are being offered in Harlow to mark National Men's Health Week.

Get Into Boxing sessions will be running every Tuesday from 7-9pm until July 20 at Harlow Amateur Boxing Club, in Momples Way, Ladyshot.

The sessions, for men and women aged over 16, are designed to be friendly introductions to the sport and a way to increase fitness and manage weight in preparation for the summer.

No experience in boxing is necessary and sparring is not compulsory.

The sessions are organised by Harlow Council in partnership with SportEssex and Harlow 2020. For more information call 07725 643867 or (01279) 446435.

Pub regulars support soccer shirts campaign

A PUB in Old Harlow has sent hundreds of football shirts to deprived children in South Africa – just in time for the World Cup.

The Marquis of Granby, in Fore Street, collected almost 250 strips from customers in a 'shirt amnesty' as part of its Project Fair Play charity campaign.

In February the pub asked regulars to donate their unwanted kit. The shirts were then washed, dried, shrink-wrapped and packed before being sent to South Africa in time for the tournament.

Representatives of the pub have visited two projects – in Masiphumelele and Red Hill near Cape Town – to see some of the Project Fair Play initiatives for themselves. Shirts were also distributed at townships in Johannesburg.

The Marquis of Granby is also raising money throughout the duration of the World Cup to fund sports projects for disadvantaged youngsters.

Half will help children in the UK through charity KidsOut while the rest will go towards building a new sports ground at the Ukhanyo School in Masiphumelele.

Pub manager Jon Tummons said: "Project Fair Play embraces the passion for football that exists amongst our locals.

"This is going to be a huge summer for sport and it's great to know our customers will help bring the spirit of the World Cup to disadvantaged youngsters both here and in South Africa."

Make a pitch with your business idea

BUDDING entrepreneurs hoping to climb the ladder of success are being offered a helping hand in a competition supported by prominent members of Harlow's business community.

Launch Pad, supported by the Star, will allow people the opportunity to pitch their business ideas to a panel of experts. It aims to find someone from the Harlow and surrounding area with a winning business idea.

The winner will receive dedicated mentoring, advice and guidance from each of the six judges to support them in launching their business idea.

The competition is open to anyone over the age of 16 living in the town or the surrounding district (including Epping, North Weald, Sawbridge-worth, Bishop's Stortford and Stansted).

Those chosen to take part will present their concepts and these will be streamed online for members of the public to vote for their favourite. Each week one idea will be selected for a place in the grand final, where the judges will select an overall winner.

Launch Pad was the brainchild of Robert Ellice, managing director of property company Clarke Hillyer and local entrepreneur who, having grown up and worked in the area, wanted to provide a platform for people from the district to showcase their business ideas and have the opportunity to develop and turn them into reality.

The project has been brought to life by Bryan Hunt, who said: "Launch Pad was an idea that came around after we expanded Clarke Hillyer into Harlow.

"From visiting various networking events it was apparent that the main topic of discussion was to try to

After attending Netteswell Comprehensive School in Harlow and going on to gain a BSc in mathematics and an MSc in operational research at Hull University, Ian spent 25 years in IT sales and consultancy with a number of major organisations before starting CopyZone Archiving Ltd (CZA) in 1999. CZA is dedicated to CZA now scans over 200,000 pages each month. Ian is vice-chairman of Harlow & District Chamber of Commerce and an active member of many business networking groups in West Essex and East Herts.

encourage new businesses to come to the area. This then set the wheels in motion to organise this initiative, which will not only see a brand new business start up in Harlow but will hopefully capture the imagination of the local public."

The panel of judges are ready to listen to a pitch for any kind of business, but they must be convinced that there is a place for it in the market and that it will be a success. All applicants will be reviewed and a shortlist of the strongest ideas will be drawn up. The candidates will then be invited to present their concepts to the panel of experts.

Their presentations will be filmed by media course students from Harlow College and then uploaded on to the Launch Pad website. Members of the public will be invited to view the videos and vote for their favourite ideas.

Each week the candidate with the greatest number of votes will win a place in the grand final.

Once all the finalists have been selected, they will get the chance to present to the judges again and this time it will be the judges who decide which of the ideas they believe will be the next big thing.

How to enter

Application forms can be completed online or downloaded to print and post. Visit to the Launch Pad website at www.launchpad-harlow.org to apply and to check out full details of the terms and conditions.

Positive response to showcase event

DOING THE BUSINESS:

HARLOW Stadium hosted the town's first-ever business exhibition on Tuesday with organisers hailing the event a major success.

About 70 local businesses – way above initial expectations – pitched stalls at the networking event held at the stadium in Roydon Road and 400 more than visitors turned up on the day.

The exhibition was opened by Harlow MP Robert Halfon who stayed to talk to local businessmen and women.

Co-organiser Khaled Khan, a local business manager at the NatWest bank, said: "The first reason for this exhibition was to showcase services and products of local businesses and I have to say the presentations were very, very professional.

"The second reason was for networking. It really was good for Harlow.

"We have already taken bookings and sponsorship for next year and it's going to be bigger and better. There's no two ways about it."

Court cuts jail term of shop boss who stole

A CAMERA shop manager who stole over £26,000 from his employers has had the length of his prison sentence reduced after blaming his criminal urges on the pressure of being promoted beyond his ability.

Patrick Dowling Thompson (42) stole £26,492 from camera chain Jessop while he was a manager responsible for the takings of several stores in London and Essex.

Thompson, of Chippingfield, Harlow, was jailed for 18 months at Southwark Crown Court in February after pleading guilty to five charges of theft.

But three judges sitting at the Court of Appeal on Thursday cut the sentence to 14 months after hearing that the pressures of his position were too much for him.

Michael Edmonds, representing Thompson, told the judges: "He had been put in a position that was beyond his capabilities. The weight of responsibility was frankly beyond him and he had been put in a position he was not cut out for."

Mr Edmonds also said Thompson had developed a shopping addiction which he funded through stealing and asked that they take that into account in mitigation.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

He added judge at Thompson's trial may have mistakenly had in mind a higher figure for the stolen money of £35,000 when he imposed sentence.

Mr Edmonds asked the court to quash Thompson's jail term in those circumstances and replace it with a suspended sentence, freeing him.

But Mr Justice Foskett, delivering the court's decision, refused to release Thompson straight away, instead cutting the 18-month sentence to 14 months.

"He would put a day's takings aside and take them home, then alter the accounts to cover the thefts," said the judge. "He came to the conclusion that it was easy to steal and he had no intention of paying the money back."

"However, he was entitled to be sentenced on his admitted criminality and, given his timely guilty plea, the full one third discount could have been expected."

"Though this represented a gross breach of trust, we think that the appropriate sentence in the circumstance of this case was one of 14 months and to that extent this appeal is allowed."

Cats in need of a loving home

COULD you give a home to these three unwanted cats?

Toddbrook Veterinary Group, in Harberts Road, Harlow, is struggling to cope after several cats have been left at the practice during the past month.

This litter, pictured with Jean Sears, is the fourth set of kittens abandoned there. Their owner did not even leave them inside the building but let them run free in the car park.

Fortunately some of the kittens have already been rehomed but new owners are still need for the mum, who is about a year old, and two of the litter.

Anyone who wants to offer a home should visit the practice or call (01279) 418614.

Firefighters plan engine pull to raise money for girl's wheelchair

FIREFIGHTERS will be attempting to pull a fire engine around Harlow on Saturday to raise money for a two-year-old girl with a life-limiting condition.

Starting from Harlow Fire Station, they will pull the vehicle along a 10km route ending at the Esporta Leisure complex in the Water Gardens.

All the money raised will be used to help buy a special motorised wheelchair for Rae White, who was born with spinal muscular atrophy which has left her paralysed from the waist down.

The sponsored pull has been organised by leading firefighter Craig Douglas, who said: "Our colleague, Jo Taylor, knows Rae and her family and when I heard what Rae's family were going through I wanted to do something to help."

"We are hoping that we will be able to raise money to help towards the £20,000 which the family need to buy Rae's special motorised wheelchair which she can operate herself to get around in."

The sponsored pull will start at the fire station in Fourth Avenue. They expect to take less than four hours to complete the course.

"The crew will be carrying buckets with us on the day as well as looking for sponsors to help us get as much money as possible for this worthy cause," said Mr Douglas.

MISSING: THE BRITISH SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE SCAREDY CAT BRITONS TRAPPED INDOORS

A study reveals we're a nation trapped indoors, who've never stood on a mountain (40%), been on a horse (50%) or swam in natural water (41%). 85% of UK landscape is fresh green fields, lakes and beautiful mountains, but in the last year over a quarter of us haven't had fresh air in our lungs and a fifth haven't even walked on a natural surface.

The report and research commissioned by outdoor retailer, GO Outdoors, shows that whilst three quarters of us like the outdoors, huge numbers have never tried the simplest activities due to never having been given the opportunity (59%) and a third have been too scared to try (33%).

GO Outdoors store in Harlow is here to dispel the fear and show you how exciting the great outdoors can be as long as you have the knowledge and right equipment.

With a climbing wall, gait analyses machine (to analyse your running technique) and a tent display area with over 40 tents set up, the GO Outdoors store in Harlow can cater for the novice beginner or the experienced adventurer!

John Graham, MD of GO Outdoors, comments:

"When we discovered that the primary reasons for people not being adventurous were fear and lack of opportunity, it inspired us to invite people to our store, to speak to our team of expert staff and try something exhilarating today. Anyone can come in and ask for advice, or contact us online, www.gooutdoors.co.uk.

We've endeavoured to create a really comfortable, friendly environment where customers of any age can come and learn about equipping themselves safely for the outdoors without feeling intimidated."

MP: Change rules to help the poor

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has called for an end to "bureaucratic legislation" that hampers people in need from accessing immediate help from charities such as Harlow Foodbank.

Under current rules, staff at Jobcentre Plus are not allowed to hand out vouchers for foodbank schemes.

Harlow Foodbank works with churches, schools and care workers to provide three days of emergency food to people in times of financial crisis.

Mr Halfon has tabled an early day motion calling on the House of Commons to recognise the work of foodbanks and has asked Work and Pensions Secretary Iain Duncan Smith to consider allowing Jobcentre Plus staff to issue vouchers.

He said the rules brought in by the previous Government were penalising families on benefits and on the breadline.

"This has hit the poorest families in Harlow the hardest, especially those whose benefits or incomes are delayed through no fault of their own," he said.

Harlow Foodbank, which is run by the Michael Roberts Charitable Trust, is based at the Rainbow Centre in Wych Elm. It has provided food for more than 1,100 people since it was started last April.

All the food is donated by the public and is distributed using a voucher system through organisations such as Harlow Welfare Rights and the Citizens Advice Bureau.

Gary Knott, Harlow Foodbank's director of community services, said: "Generally around 44 per cent of referrals come from people who have got benefit delays."

"From our point of view it means the Jobcentre has to refer the person to one of our providers. It just extends the process for what are often very vulnerable people."

"The quicker we can make the process the better. If the Jobcentre could hand out vouchers then within half-an-hour these people could have three days worth of nutritionally balanced food."

Awards night for youngsters

A SPECIAL ceremony will be held at Harlow Playhouse next week during which 69 young people from schools throughout the town will be presented with Jack Petchey Achievement Awards.

The winners, who will receive medals and framed certificates, were nominated by teachers, parents, governing bodies or fellow students for a variety of achievements.

They also each won £200 for their individual schools.

The awards are presented by the Jack Petchey Foundation, established in 1999 by businessman Jack Petchey to help develop the potential in young people aged 11-25 in London and Essex.

"I am very proud of our awards scheme because it sums up exactly what the foundation is doing, making a difference to young people whatever their circumstances," said Mr Petchey.

To date the foundation has made grants totalling more than £60m to schools, clubs and youth organisations.

Among those invited to attend Tuesday's ceremony are Harlow MP Robert Halfon and Harlow Council chairman Sue Livings.

Police appeal over underpass attack

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a woman was assaulted as she walked in an underpass in Harlow.

The attack took place in Abercrombie Way shortly before 8pm on Monday.

The 30-year-old victim told police her assailant was white, aged in his 30s and with a shaved head. He was wearing black jeans and white trainers.

Anyone with information about the attack should call detectives on 0300 333 4444.

Classy show has feelgood factor

REVIEW

When Harry Met Sally Harlow Playhouse

STAGE versions of popular Hollywood films are ten-a-penny these days, so the bar was set pretty high for this star-studded adaptation of the hit romantic comedy.

The ultimate question when it comes to shows of this kind is how well it stacks up against the film.

In the case of When Harry Met Sally the task is tough. The 1989 movie, starring Billy Crystal and Meg Ryan, has endured remarkably well. This is due in large part to Nora Ephron's Oscar-nominated screenplay which follows Harry and Sally over the course of 12 years as they bump into each other, fall out, become friends, sleep together and fall out again before finally falling in love.

Despite changing the locations of their early encounters (most notably the first scene when Harry is hired to redecorate Sally's New York apartment – in the film they share a drive from university), Marcy Kahan's script has wisely not played around too much with Ephron's zippy dialogue.

The play also inevitably hinges on the chemistry between the two leads, and in Rupert Hill and Sarah Jayne Dunn, pictured right, the audience was well served. Their journey as they ever-so-slowly realised they are meant to be together was entirely believable.

The notorious deli scene in which Sally shows Harry how easy it is to fake an orgasm, followed by a fellow diner declaring "I'll have what she's having" was hilarious, although just one of several highlights.

A great supporting cast, especially Luke Rutherford as Harry's best friend Jess, kept things moving while the understated jazzy score by Jamie Cullum and his brother Ben struck just the right tone.

The pace slumped during the frequent scene changes which hamstrung the cast, but this was a minor quibble.

One can only hope greater numbers attend future dramas at The Playhouse as otherwise we'll miss out on classy pieces of feelgood theatre like this.

>>>FRIDAY A live screening of England's World Cup match against Algeria is followed by an easy-skanking evening of reggae, funk and soul courtesy of the Pressure Drop Soundsystem. Kick-off is at 7.30pm and admission is £4.

Empty shop to get a new lease of life as art studio

WORK has now begun on converting empty shop premises in Harlow town centre into affordable studios for local artists.

Gatehouse Arts, which will occupy the site of the former Learning Shop in West Gate, will feature 16 individual studios, a gallery and a community space which could be used to host interactive workshops.

It is hoped the project will breathe new life into the neglected northern quarter of the town centre and reinforce Harlow's cultural and artistic credentials.

Potential suitors for the new studio spaces have been given a tour of the premises – which also include a spacious former architect's office above the ground floor shop – and it is hoped they will be up and running in their new workplace by September.

The project is the brainchild of Harlow Renaissance, Harlow Council and Essex County Council and is being overseen by specialist organisation the Association for Cultural Advancement through Visual Art.

Andrew Bramidge, chief executive of Harlow Renaissance, said: "We have been keen to support this development of studio space as a complement to the wider regeneration of the town centre."

"We have already planted new trees, installed art work in empty shop windows and the addition of this gallery and studio space will increase the vibrancy of the town centre."

HONESTY is the cornerstone of any healthy and long-lasting relationship but perhaps it is sometimes wiser to keep a secret than to share it with a loved one.

According to a recent survey of 3,000 women, they will typically share a secret within 48 hours of hearing the juicy morsel of gossip.

But if Robert Luketic's action-packed romantic comedy is to be believed – and it is an almighty stretch – men are capable of hiding everything from their nearest and dearest.

In the case of the film's charming hero, he manages to meet, woo and marry the woman of his dreams without revealing a vital part of his genetic make-up.

Jen Kornfeldt (Katherine Heigl) doesn't believe that she will ever fall in love again after her current boyfriend dumps her. Consigned to life as a singleton, she reluctantly goes on holiday with her overly protective pilot father (Tom Selleck) and boozy mother (Catherine O'Hara) to the French Riviera where she meets handsome consultant Spencer Aimes (Ashton Kutcher).

Jen is instantly attracted to his washboard stomach and warm smile, and the couple enjoys a slightly drunken first date.

Three years later, Jen is married to Spencer and happily settled in a close-knit community with white picket fences and kooky neighbours. But alas, Spencer has been keeping a tiny secret: he is an international spy and assassin who retired from active duty but has now been marked for death.

It is only when Jen is caught in the middle of a gunfight that she finally realises the full horror of her situation as sidekick to a trained killer.

Killers is an odd mish-mash of genres, veering wildly from action to comedy and back again, sometimes in a single scene.

Kutcher and Heigl are far better than the screenplay, which reduces the former to shirtless eye candy and the latter to an unadventurous homemaker. Their on-screen chemistry simmers but never catches fire and is extinguished almost entirely by the stunt-laden finale.

Selleck twitches his fine moustache as the patriarch with secrets of his own while O'Hara is broad comic relief as a lush whose idea of hair-of-the-dog is a quart jug of extra strong Bloody Mary.

Comedy caper hits the target

WILD TARGET certificate 12A 1h38m

BILL Nighy stars in this British comedy caper as Victor Maynard, a meticulous, lethally efficient, middle-aged and unmarried assassin who still remains under the thumb of his domineering mother.

In contrast, Rose (Emily Blunt) is a reckless, flamboyant and free-spirited thief aiming to pull off the ultimate con. After copying a real Rembrandt, she hands the fake version to art-loving gangster Ferguson (Rupert Everett) who, as soon as he realises he's been duped, hires Victor to exact a deadly revenge.

Victor sets out to perform the deadly hit in a car park but as he stalks Rose he finds himself unable to kill her, despite the threat it could bring to his family's reputation.

Dismayed at Victor's inability to dispose of Rose, Ferguson sends out his own bodyguard Tony (Rupert Grint) to carry out the job instead – only for Victor to be the knight in shining armour and protect his intended target who is under the mistaken impression he is an undercover private investigator. When Tony finds himself caught up in the commotion and puts himself down for an apprenticeship with the contract killer, the unlikely trio go on the run from Ferguson's heavies.

Performances from the cast cannot be faulted, with Blunt's gloriously gregarious laughter taking over the screen, as does her on-screen rapport with Nighy's buttoned-up hitman.

Wild Target is a film that will tickle your laughter buds and make for an enjoyable big-screen outing.

Sell your house for free with haart World Cup draw

PEOPLE selling their homes could net themselves a huge saving with a haart World Cup competition this summer.

Through a series of prize draws, haart is giving vendors the chance to sell their property for free – a saving of around $3,000 on a house worth $165,000.

Every new instruction with haart between now and the date of England's last World Cup game will be entered into five prize draws, one for each of the final stages.

These draws will continue as long as England win their matches. So depending on the team's success in the tournament in South Africa, new vendors throughout haart parent company Spicerhaart have five chances of winning. Haart Harlow branch manager Shawn Meakins said: "This is a great incentive for new vendors to come on board with us as they have the chance of making a big saving if they win our competition. Let's hope it's a repeat of 1966 for England this year, so five people will be big winners."

The prize draws will be held on Friday June 25, Wednesday June 30, Monday July 5, Thursday July 8 and Monday July 12 or until England are knocked out of the tournament. If England fail to get through the group stages then there will be no prize draws.

For more information, call haart estate agents on (01279) 443311.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Manager upbeat as trio sign

Warren said: "It's out of our hands and I am relaxed. I am 90 per cent confident that we will be in Ryman League division one north next season."

If Harlow go down to the Essex Senior League, Warren could lose players who wish to stay at Step 4.

"It will be down to each individual to decide what to do," said Warren.

Meanwhile, Witham Town, who finished second in the Essex Senior League last term, have been unsuccessful in their attempt to get into Ryman League division one north next season. Their appeal, heard at the FA on Tuesday, was unsuccessful.

The position of Grays Athletic is uncertain.

Grays, who have lost ex-Harlow player Kenny Davis to Braintree, finished bottom of the Blue Square Premier last term but were expected to drop into the Ryman League. But a failure to submit the relevant paperwork to the Ryman League could cost them a place.

"I see Clark [Akers] as an attacking mid-field player primarily but he is versatile. He can play up front or on either wing," said Warren.

"Chris [Ellerbeck] is quick and experienced at this level. He feels he did not do as well as he should have done when he was last here [in 2008-09]."

The Harlow boss has managed to lure utility player Louis Bristow from Essex Senior League Takeley, but has reportedly missed out on his team-mates, winger Mick Kennedy and defender Stefan Szajewski.

Left-back Spencer Knight and forward Emmanuel Osei have quit Harlow. "I could not agree terms with Spencer and do have cover on the left with Mark Duckett and Shaun Gliddon," said Warren.

"Emmanuel is going to university. I would have liked to keep him but he could not commit the time."

Warren is still waiting to hear from former Raith Rovers midfielder Ryan Maxwell over his availability next term.

A decision from a central defender who played at Step 3 last term is also imminent. The Harlow boss is waiting for a definite answer before revealing his name.

Depleted club miss out in final 5K race

Running

A DEPLETED host club missed out in the final race of the Harlow Ladies 5K series.

The winner of the final race was Lauren Macgregor (Orion Harriers) in 19 mins 38 secs, who was the overall series winner.

She was followed home by Fiona Tidswell in 19:59 and Fiona Halls in 20:07, both of Saffron Striders.

Janice Page (Harlow Running Club) ran well to finish in 15th place in 15:24.

She was closely followed by Celia Haigh in 17th (25:14, PB) and Emma Wadding (18th, 25:40).

There were also personal best times for Catherine Jones (26:05), Linda Hawkins (27:28), Holly Gardner (28:06) and Helen Kopec (34:37).

Harlow's Dionne Jones won the Vet 40 prize.

Other Harlow times: Karen Moir 26:40; Wendy Spring 26:51; Alison Bull 28:14; Wendy Bradford 28:51; Lauren Tibbles 31:09; Elaine Turner 31:10; Carol McKenzie 32:09; Melanie Harris 34:47.

At the Southend Half Marathon, Andy Sims – in his first half marathon race – was fastest Harlow runner. He was 127th out of 1,500 runners in a superb 1 hr 31 mins 49 secs.

He was followed home by David Croly in a PB for the distance of 1:36:25.

Other times: Dan Chapman, 1:37:04; Sharon Wright, 1:42:13 PB; Wendy Spring, 1:54:10 (PB by over 10 mins); Graeme Thomas, 1:40:04; Linda Selby, 1:59:05; Karen Moir, 2:03:18.

Every dog has its day

Underdogs Harlow AC show plenty of bite to win at Battersea

HARD work was the key as Harlow Athletic Club picked up a tremendous victory in the third Southern Men's League division three north meeting of the season at Battersea.

Fielding just eight athletes and up against much larger Havering Mayesbrook AC – and still without distance runners and steeple chasers – it looked as if the match was going to be a fight to keep up with the competition rather than beating them!

However, the day got off to a very good start when Glen Paxman and Carl Paxman took first places in both the A and B string pole vault with a personal best (PB) equalling height for Glen (2.40m).

This was quickly followed by Glen setting a 9.54m PB in the A shot put and Paul Avontuur achieving a season's best of

TOP FORM: Harlow Athletic Club men's team: Steve Lott, Paul Avontuur, Carl Paxman, Catherine Bauer (team manager), Chris Clark, Steve Down, Glen Paxman, Liam Mistry, Dave Bauer (captain) (s)

9.34m to again take a first places in the B shot put.

A further double win in the hammer by Dave Bauer (with a season's best of 35.68m) and Chris Clark (with a throw of 21.34m) gave Harlow an early lead.

A PB of 1.65m by Glen in the A high jump gave him second, while brother Carl's 1.45m B effort was enough for second as well.

Only 1cm separated Carl (5.62m) and Glen (5.61m) in the long jump where again the twins took first places in the A and B-string events.

However, disaster struck when Glen pulled his hamstring in the 100m sprint and limped home.

"My hamstring had been playing up in training," confessed Glen.

"Luckily, the injury happened just before a gap in my events so that I had time to treat it with ice and give it a short rest."

Meanwhile, on the track Steve Down demonstrated why he is one of the fastest veteran (V40) hurdlers in the UK.

Down cruised to victory in the 400m hurdles in 66.1s and came second in the 110m hurdles in 22.0s.

Down is currently ranked as 3rd in the UK in the men's V40 110m hurdles.

Liam Mistry and Steve Lott covered the middle distance events.

Mistry, returning from injury, ran 2:16.1s in the 800m and 4:40.0 in the 1,500m and Lott (V40) ran a more modest 2:45.8s in the 800m.

Points were lost by the team not being able to cover the 5km and the steeplechase.

Points were tied between Harlow and Havering in the 400m where Glen Paxman ran 55.6s in the A race (2nd) and Down clocked 58.4s (B, 3rd).

Carl Paxman was 2nd in the A javelin (37.79m) and a PB and first place was accrued by Glen in the B event (35.07m).

Bauer shared points with a first place in the A discus (35.41m), while Chris Clark took second place in the B (23.15m).

Two vital points were lost in the 200m as both Glen (25.1s) and Carl (24.2s) were beaten by Havering athletes.

However, the siblings pulled out the stops for the triple jump by taking first place in both the A (Glen - 11.36m) and B events (Carl - 10.82m) which regained the one-point lead that secured the match win.

"As a club, we are so proud to have athletes like Glen and Carl in the team. We were all worried and accepted that we had lost Glen [to injury] and with him the match," said team captain Dave Bauer, "But Glen was determined not to give up."

Harlow are now 6th in division three north.

Kirsty fourth at South Champs

HARLOW'S Kirsty McIntosh sealed a superb fourth (3.40m) in the senior women's high jump at the South of England Champs at Crystal Palace. Harlow College student Billy Falconer was 7th in the junior men's high jump (1.90m) and Markus Hust made the last 16 in the senior men's 400m, clocking 49.79s in his heat and 49.55s in the semi.

School Ty's a champion

TYLER Bown triumphed with a PB in the intermediate boys 400m at the Essex Schools Championships on Saturday.

The 15-year-old, a Mark Hall School pupil, clocked a fantastic 52.02s, a 1.5s improvement on his previous best.

Sophie Fuhr (16), a Burnt Mill student, gained a silver in the intermediate girls 300m (43.26).

Alicia McArdell (12), from Mark Hall, clocked a PB in the Year 7 girls 600m (6th, 1:49.8). This puts her 15th in the UK rankings.

Other results:- Amelia Barrett 6th junior girls 1,500m (5:22.7); Perry Rowan 7th junior boys 1,500m (4:46.7 PB); Isobel Moss 9th junior girls 1,500 (5:32.5); James Palmer 9th inter boys hammer (27.95m); Ryan Dunne 14th inter boys 1,500m (4:58).

Town back to winning ways

THE frustration of losing the previous two games to rain was put to one side by Harlow Town as they won at South Loughton. Loughton batted first on Saturday and were bowled out for 159 which would have been a lot less but for Lee Baker's 84.

The wickets were shared by seven different Town bowlers.

In reply, Pat Yates top scored for Harlow with 52 and his opening stand of 70 with Shiraz Ali (32) provided the platform for victory, clinched by a brisk 41 not out from Ronak Sorathiya.

Harlow Town II (277) thrashed South Loughton II (114) at home by 163 runs in division three. Darryl Pettengell struck a sublime 86, while Charlie Coleman hit 55.

Potter Street (136-5) overcame Chesterfords (135-9) at home by five wickets in the same division.

South Loughton 159, Harlow Tn 163-5
(Harlow won by five wickets Herts & Essex League, div one)

Surath Bastolla eased the team home with a smart 56 not out.

In the inaugural Proudlock Twenty-20 Cup, Harlow Town (164-5) beat Birchanger (159; Sheldon Sellsars 66) by five runs in Sunday's final.

Karl Seecahran hit 55 not out from 45 balls for Harlow. His knock included two sixes.

Four teams competed in the tournament at Ash Tree Field. Harlow Town (163-7) beat a Harlow Town all-stars team (101) in their semi, while Birchanger defeated Dunmow in the last four. Other league results: div six - Harlow Tn III (230-7) bt Stansted II (147) away by 83 runs; div seven - Potter St II (283-7) bt Rickling Ramblers II (38) by 245 runs.

Boss upbeat as trio sign

HAWKS boss Kevin Warren has signed three more players and remains confident the club will be spared relegation from Ryman League division one north.

Warren has signed two former Harlow players in midfielder Clark Akers and striker Chris Ellerbeck, plus Louis Bristow.

Harlow Town finished bottom last season but have been included in the Ryman constitution for next season.

The FA will decide today (Thursday) whether to reinstate relegated division one north club

VCD Athletic.

The Crayford side were unable to meet ground requirements for Step 4 (Ryman div one south or Ryman div one north) of the non-League pyramid. However, this work has since been completed.

If VCD are reprieved, it is thought the Hawks might still be thrown out.

Praise for gritty last duo as they clinch draw

SKIPPER Jason McNally heaped praise on his last-wicket pair Luke Monger and Zafir Nazir for clinching a valuable draw for Harlow at Harold Wood.

The visitors had lost any chance of victory in Saturday's game when the pair came together with Harlow on 136-9 in response to Harold Wood's 207.

Monger (4 not out) and Nazir (0 not out) batted out five overs and secured the draw which meant Wood got only 12 points and not 20.

Harlow accrued five points and are third, seven points behind second-placed Wood.

McNally said: "To come out with a draw is 10 or 15 times better than a loss. They could have got 20 points and the result is important as they are one of the better sides.

"Luke and Zafir did really well under a lot of pressure. If you have five overs to get the last wicket you would fancy your chances as the fielding side."

Harlow's innings was largely held together by the prolific

PRaise: Harlow skipper Jason McNally, pictured batting here, praised last wicket duo Luke Monger and Zaf Nazir (HSP0853284)

Ahmed Khawaja who hit 89, while no other player reached double figures.

"His hand to eye co-ordination is fantastic. He hit five big sixes. Rehman and myself have got runs but the load has been on Ahmed," said McNally.

"It's frustrating as we have good players. There were a couple of rash shots and two were out due to the pitch."

Earlier, Monger had bowled well to take 5-40 in Wood's innings built around a third-wicket stand of 120 between Raihan Hussain (79) and Rizwan Qureshi (48).

Second for brilliant Bethell at Stortford 10 race

A TREMENDOUS performance from Harlow Running Club's Jared Bethell secured him second spot at the Bishop's Stortford 10K.

Bethell clocked 36 minutes and 45 seconds.

He was followed home by Lee Daniel in 40:34 and Jon Steadman in 42:10. These three combined to win the men's team prize.

In the Bishop's Stortford 10-mile race, first Harlow runner was Alan Cootes in 1 hr, 21 mins, 13 secs. He was followed home by first Harlow lady Janice Page – in her first 10-mile race. She recorded 1:27.06.

Her husband David Page, also in his first 10-mile race, clocked 1:29.18.

Also running were Ron Newton (1:30.40), Sonia Davis (1:32.14) and Alan Clucas (1:48.07).

In the St Albans Half Marathon, Harlow's John Tennant was 83rd out of 1,976 runners in a superb 1:31.13 which was 2nd Vet 60 finisher and also broke the HRC Vet 60 half marathon record.
